Your results are ready.

View educational videos

- 4 Your results will be displayed and a video will be available for your review.

Speak with a counselor

- 5 Once you have viewed your video, please accept or decline counseling.
- 6 If scheduling a consult, please fill in your contact information and appointment details as requested.

Consultations are a way to ensure that you understand your results and are prepared for any next steps. At Myriad Women's Health, a consult is provided over the phone and gives you direct access to a professional genetics expert who can interpret your report. Members of our clinical team are all certified by the American Board of Genetic Counseling.
